

Playing It Safe

Tips for safe sleepovers and time with friends

Educate and empower your child

Educate and empower your child on safe body boundaries and how to reach you.

Be available

Be available in case your child or the other caregiver needs to contact you.

Communicate with caregivers

Communicate with caregivers about any medical needs and other important details. Ask who else will be in the home, what the safety plan is for dangerous items, and online expectations.

Find more tips and resources at faceitabuse.org.